Judicial Ticket,

—to—

For Associate Justice of the Supreme Court—
DAVID TAYLOR, of Fond du Lac.
For County Judge—
AMOS P. PRICHARD, of Janesville.

The president is giving the south some offices on a silver platter.

Postmaster General Vilas is said to be worth from $200,000 to $300,000.

Mr. Pullman's family car cost $75,000, and is the most expensive car ever constructed.

Hereafter there can be no gambling at agricultural fairs in this state unless done on the sly.

Distance lends a sensation to the view. Over in Europe they don't seem to know that any war is talked about.

There is hardly a country on the face of the earth, save our own, that can look "from sunrise to sunset across a continent at peace and prosperity."

A bill passed the senate increasing the salaries of circuit judges in this state from $3,500 to $4,500, but the assembly killed it with its little hatchet of economy.

Colonel Vilas said last week that if a New York democrat couldn't be found who would make as good a postmaster as Pearson, that he would send to Wisconsin for one rather than appoint a republican. Will the Colonel please explain why he didn't send to Wisconsin for a democrat?

The secretary of the Illinois board of health, who is a doctor, is already getting scared about the cholera, and he gives public notice that it will probably visit this country this summer. People should not get frightened over what Dr. Rauch says. He is a little too previous, and does not exercise good judgment in making such an announcement.

A prominent democrat who has not been able to get what offices he and his friends think they ought to have, wants to know of the administration whether Indiana, Connecticut and New Jersey went republican last fall. He suspects that they must have done so, because no conspicuous democrat representing those states has been invited by the administration to come in and warm his toes.

The Concord, Massachusetts, public library committee has decided to exclude Mark Twain's latest book "Huckleberry Finn" from the library because it is immoral. This was a very good way to advertise Twain's book, and the author will be under many obligations to the Concord library committee for the boom they have given Huck. Finn. Of its own merit, Finn would not sell very well because it is not as good as Twain's previous work, but the doings of Concord will excite a demand for it.

The report of the medical authorities is that pneumonia has caused an average of nearly twenty-seven deaths a week in Philadelphia during January and February, and of nearly forty-six a week during the first half of March. Its ravages this year have been unprecedented, and it is the especial terror of all persons who have impaired their constitutions by excesses of various kinds. The fitful condition of the weather at this season of the year, and the mistake of many persons in being tempted to change their clothing at the first approach of gentle spring, cause the striking ravages of pneumonia.

There was a very singular form of a mirage known as the "looming-up mirage", visible at Toronto, the other day. The whole breadth of Lake Ontario was visible, and the Globe says that an ice phenomenon, unprecedented, probably, in the memory of man, greeted the sight. The lake, which even in the severe winter of 1883-'84, was free from ice, except in the off-lying bays, was almost entirely covered. Three narrow streaks of blue, the first apparently about fifteen miles out from shore, and the last about ten miles down the lake, showed belts of water each apparently a few miles wide. A larger open piece of blue also reached out from Humber Bay for some distance. Elsewhere all was hummocky white, and close to the south shore stood up a huge cake glinting in the sunshine. Several houses on the water front at Niagara and the American Fort across the river were visible. On the Sunday previous the air was clear and the spray of Niagara Falls was also seen."

THE COUNTY JUDGESHIP.

It must be very gratifying to Judge Amos P. Prichard, to be able to command the solid vote of Rock for the county judgeship. It rarely happens that any one who has been in office so long as he has been, can unite all parties and all factions, and secure their good will, and get the election by common consent.

We believe Judge Prichard has held that office for nearly thirty years, all the while faithful, constant and efficient, and the longer he remains in the service of the people the more strongly securing their confidence and support. This is a very handsome compliment to the judge and it is one the people are happy in paying him. To receive the unanimous vote of the intelligent people of Rock county is an honor for which any man should feel proud.

PEARSON GETS THERE.

President Cleveland has finally yielded to the demands of the independent republicans of New York and the business men of that city who belong to the republican party, and has re-appointed Henry G. Pearson as postmaster of New York. This a blow at the New York democracy which will prove quite staggering in its effects.

A few days ago the Gazette stated that the post-office in New York under the management of Mr. Pearson, was counted one of the best managed offices in the world. The system by which it is conducted is marvelously thorough, and the efficiency of the service rendered by Mr. Pearson is something that commands the admiration of the business men of New York. During the campaign last fall Mr. Pearson remained true to the republican party, but did not use the power of the post-office to aid in the election of Mr. Blaine. Under the civil service rules he could not throw the telling influence of his office for the benefit of the republican campaign, and because he strictly observed the civil service law, the independents of New York were urgent in their request to the president to re-appoint Mr. Pearson.

In regard to this matter the president was placed in a very delicate position. To refuse to appoint Mr. Pearson under all the circumstances, especially in view of the tenor of the president's civil service letter to Curtis, Norman and others, would prove to be an ugly slap in the face of the New York independent republicans. In choosing sides in this matter, he had the courage to grant the request of the independent republicans at the cost of gaining the disapprobation of the democratic politicians of that city.

THE REPUBLICAN RECORD.

When our democratic friends got control of the government they frequently gave public notice that they would unearth some appalling republican corruptions, and that they would show by the books of the various departments and the confidential clerks employed therein, that republican frauds had for years been hid from public observation. There is no doubt that many democrats honestly think there have been numberless defalcations in the various departments at Washington, and it was naturally predicted that when the democrats took possession of the treasury books some of these defalcations would come to light.

But our democratic friends have as yet done nothing in the way of making good the promise of exposing republican corruption and inefficiency. Not only has no progress been made in this direction, but on the other hand, at least one of the new heads of departments, has been wonderfully surprised at the system, the discipline and the industry he has found in his department. He had been taught for years, as the whole democratic party had been taught, by the reckless charges of the democratic press that the departments were full of political creatures and incompetents, and that they needed a complete overhauling.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette has had an important interview with one of the new cabinet officers, and this frank statement is reported:

He had become convinced that in no private establishment in the land, no matter how strictly conducted, was there the perfection of system, the thoroughness of discipline, the general faithfulness and efficiency, that existed in his department. There are men in the offices who have spent their lives there, and who are as much a part of the system as a spoke is a part of the wheel. When I want to know anything in my department the messenger who has been there for many years can tell what gentleman to call upon, and he will come in and tell me anything I want to know down to the minutest points, and go back a generation in personal knowledge, and in a moment can lay his hand upon and produce anything in the way of history, documents, or written matter for my information. Now, suppose, I put such men as these out for party reasons, and fill their places with new men more utterly ignorant of the matters of the department than I am myself, do you not see that it would be ruinous to the department and to the government, though it would satisfy some political workers? I was surprised too, to find what a large proportion of the men are men of family; sober, quiet, reliable citizens, doing their duties steadily, faithfully and efficiently, rearing families and holding their places in the world as good citizens, husbands and fathers. A large proportion of the clerks are of this character, and I have not been able to trace a score of men, so far, placed in the department for purely political reasons.

This is the testimony of a democratic cabinet officer, and therefore it contains some weight in establishing the honest and faithful record of the republican party. Like many other democrats he supposed there must have been republican corruption and inefficiency, but experience of less duration than one month has convinced him that the departments are admirably managed. Colonel Vilas has found this out. Bayard has also found it out, and has requested many of the republican clerks to remain with him. The other cabinet officers have had none other than the kindest words and the highest praise for the manner in which their departments have been managed under republican administrations.

Indigestion's Martyrs.

Half the diseases of the human family spring from a disordered stomach, and may be prevented by invigorating and toning that abused and neglected organ with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Let it be borne in mind that the liver, the kidneys, the intestines, the muscles, the ligaments, the bones, the nerves, the integuments, are all renewed and nourished by the blood, and that the digestive organs are the grand alembic in which the materials of the vital fluid are prepared. When the stomach fails to provide healthful nourishment for its dependencies they necessarily suffer, and the ultimate result, if the evil is not arrested, will be chronic and probably fatal disease somewhere. It may be developed in the kidneys in the form of diabetis, in the liver as congestion, in the muscles as rheumatism, in the nerves as paralysis, in the integuments as scrofula. Remember, however, that each and all of these consequences of indigestion may be prevented by the timely and regular use of that sovereign antidote to dyspepsia, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Vitality of Great Men

Is not always innate or born with them, but many instances are known where it has been acquired by the persistent and judicious use of Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic.

GOOD, BUT DON'T LIKE IT

WHAT CONGRESSMAN McMILLAN SAYS OF AN APPOINTMENT.

Pearson Gets the New York Postoffice Again—Democratic Views of the Selection—The President's Idea—Other Official Favorites.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 1.—Another list of nominations was sent to the senate by the president, Tuesday, and among the appointees is one over whose probable selection there has been much speculation—that of Henry G. Pearson, the Republican incumbent, to be postmaster at New York. The nominees sent in are as follows:

To be envoys extraordinary and ministers plenipotentiary of the United States: William R. Roberts, of New York, to Chili; Charles W. B. Buck, of Kentucky, to Peru; Richard B. Hubbard, of Texas, to Japan. Charles T. Russell, of Connecticut, to be consul at Liverpool, England. William M. Lang, of Texas, to be United States consul at Hamburg, Germany.

Henry G. Pearson to be postmaster at New York. Norman J. Coleman, of Missouri, to be commissioner of agriculture. John T. McGraw, of West Virginia, to be collector of internal revenue for the district of West Virginia. Henry P. Kernschar, of Louisiana, to be naval officer at New Orleans. Andrew J. Boyd, of North Carolina, to be collector of internal revenue for the Fifth district of North Carolina.

The Chicago Times correspondent telegraphs his paper as follows relative to the appointment of Pearson, and how it is received by Democrats:

"The nomination of Henry G. Pearson to be postmaster at New York has caused almost universal disgust among Democrats here, which is expressed in very forcible language in private conversation; but there is no indication of a revolt against the appointing power. Some senators speak freely about the situation, but are not willing to permit their names to go into print in connection with any criticism upon the administration. They say the president has shown surprising weakness and want of political sagacity in having yielded to the demands of the New York Independents to retain a Republican in control of the most important postoffice in the Union and the most valuable office in the state of New York. It will discourage the active Democrats of that state to such an extent that there will be a large falling off in the Democratic vote in the important state election next fall. They say it will please the Republican Independents who supported Mr. Cleveland because they did not like Blaine, but it will not gain a dozen Republican votes for the Democratic ticket in the state election.

"Congressman Spriggs, of New York, a warm friend of Cleveland and an intimate friend of Tilden, is quoted as saying that every Democratic senator who is moved by a feeling of allegiance to his party ought to refuse assent to the confirmation of Pearson, and in his opinion they ought even to fight the nomination to the bitter end; but, however great the dissatisfaction, it is not believed that any Democratic senators will be willing to make a fight against the administration thus early in its career. Some of them may, and probably will, vote against confirmation, but a majority of Democrats and the solid vote of the Republicans will support the administration in this case.

"One of the most conservative senators from a southern state, remarked that the president seemed to him to have committed a great blunder in not appointing a Democratic civil service reformer in place of Mr. Pearson, but he would admit that the circumstances in which the president was placed in this instance were peculiar, and being well informed as to the situation in New York, and having studied the case in all its bearings, Mr. Cleveland was better qualified to judge what should be done than any senator from another state could be.

"The truth is that the president has carefully examined all charges against Mr. Pearson, and found them insufficient. Mr Pearson's reappointment was asked by a large number of New York business men of all political parties, and it therefore seemed to the president that his reappointment was the right thing, and the president does what he thinks is the right thing, whether other people like it or not. As to the political expediency, it should be remembered that if a County Democrat had been appointed, Tammany would have been angry, and if a Tammany man had been appointed, the County Democracy would have been angry.

"Congressman McMillan, of Tennessee, tells a story to illustrate the way Democrats feel about the matter. After drinking some very unpleasant mineral water, he gave a glass to his little girl, and with many a wry face and many a gulp, but with all her infantile fortitude, she drank it all without a word. 'It is good, isn't it?' he asked her, banteringly. 'Yes,' she replied, 'it is good, but I don't like it.'"

[Henry G. Pearson was born in New York city in July, 1842, and was educated in the public schools. In October, 1860, he was appointed a stamper and distributor in the New York postoffice. In the summer of 1863 he discharged for the reason that he was not a political worker, but he was soon reappointed on account of his knowledge of route distribution. He was appointed assistant clerk on the railway mail line between New York and Washington in 1864, becoming a clerk on the same in 1865 and head clerk on the line in 1871. A little later he was appointed chief head clerk, and from 1872 to the end of 1876 he was also a special agent of the postoffice department. In February, 1878, he was made superintendent of mails in the New York office, and in November of that year became assistant postmaster. Mr. Pearson held the latter position until March 22, 1881, when he was appointed postmaster, succeeding his father-in-law, Mr. Thomas L. James, who had been made postmaster general. Among the unpaid positions held by Mr. Pearson were those of local agent at New York for the inspection of mail equipment and chairman in the civil service board in the postoffice from May, 1873, to March, 1881. His successful administration of the postoffice upon strictly business principles and his adherence to the methods of civil service reform in appointments and promotions are well known to the New York public.]

The Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 1.—The public debt statement for March will show—owing to a considerable falling off in customs receipts—a very small reduction in the debt. Some important changes in form will appear in the March statement. These changes are merely changes of bookkeeping, and only affect the statement of the amount of cash in the treasury.

Manning Stands by Higgins.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 1.—Secretary Manning, after a careful consideration of the protests against Mr. Higgins, who was designated to succeed Mr. Trevitt as appointment clerk of the treasury department, has appointed him to that position to take effect immediately.

Great Discovery.

Mr. Wm. Thomas, of Newton, Ia., says: "My wife has been seriously affected with a cough for twenty-five years, and this spring more severely than ever before. She had used many remedies without relief, and being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery, did so, with most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved him very much, and the second bottle has absolutely cured her. She has not had so good head for thirty years."

RUSSIA WANTS TIME.

HER ANSWER TO THE BRITISH "ULTIMATUM" UNSATISFACTORY.

French Statesmen Worried Over the Construction of a Cabinet—Riel's Followers Still Harassing the Canucks—The Colon Incident In Central America.

LONDON, April 1.—Russia's response to England's so-called ultimatum of March 26, was received by Lord Granville Tuesday evening. Its contents will not be officially made known just now, and all that can be learned concerning its purport is gathered from interviews with attaches of the Russian legation. Of course, these gentlemen disclaim any personal and accurate knowledge of what M. De Giers has said to Lord Granville, but there is little reason to doubt that their surmises have some foundation; and these may be interpreted to the effect that the note is simply a repetition of the devices so often employed heretofore by Russia to gain time for the completion of her military arrangements. Lord Granville's ultimatum was that Russia should either withdraw her soldiers from the disputed Afghan frontier at once, or fix a near day for the meeting of the joint boundary commission. The reply, it is believed, is a promise to hurry up the Russian commission, but the question of withdrawing the troops is ignored. The date of the meeting of the boundary commission is therefore still a matter of M. de Giers's caprice or convenience. Meanwhile a well-informed correspondent, who is understood to have access to all the facts known to Sir Peter Lumsden, telegraphs via Teheran that a large force of Russian troops has reached Merv, and that new battalions daily arrive to strengthen the extreme frontier posts.

The government has received telegrams from Lord Dufferin, dated at Rawal Pindi, in which he states that he held a protracted conference with the emeer in that city Tuesday. He says he has thoroughly convinced the emeer that it is to his interests to place faith in England, and the latter assured his lordship that he was willing to commit his interests to the hands of the English government, in whom he placed the most implicit confidence.

LONDON, April 1.—Advices from New Zealand are to the effect that the colony is taking every precaution against reprisals by the Russians in case of hostilities between England and Russia. Heavy guns are being mounted along the coast, while in the harbors torpedoes are being laid.

War Preparations In Australia.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 1.—Recruiting for services in the home regiments is going on in the cities through out Australia, and there is great activity in military circles. In addition to the planting of torpedoes in the harbors and approaches to inland cities, masked batteries are being erected. The forts all along the coast have been overhauled and strengthened.

Drank "To a Speedy and Bloody War."

VIENNA, April 1.—A correspondent of The Neue Freie Presse telegraphs a description of a public banquet given at Odessa Monday night to some regiments about to depart for Merv. The feeling expressed by the speakers was most vindictive against England, and an impromtu toast to "a speedy and bloody war" was applauded to the echo.

Osman Digma Asks Terms.

SUAKIM, April 1.—Osman Digma sent an envoy under a flag of truce Tuesday to ask Gen. Graham on what terms a cessation of hostilities can be arranged. Gen. Graham has sent out a scouting party to see if it is true as reported, that Osman has retired from both Tamai and Hasheen.

Folded His Tents and Stole Away.

LONDON, April 1.—Special dispatches late Tuesday night fully confirmed the reports of Osman Digma's retreat. The whole army of the Mahdi's chief lieutenant is rapidly making for the interior. The British are greatly pleased at their opportunity to get a good start out of Suakim unmolested.

A PROTRACTED INDIAN WAR

Looked for by the Canadian Officials—Troops Hurrying Forward.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, April 1.—A dispatch has just been received from Battleford, announcing the killing of ten citizens and the burning of the town.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 1.—The news that the Indians have taken Battleford, caused intense excitement in this city Tuesday, and the government is making active preparations for hurrying forward troops and munitions of war. From the elaborate preparations of the officials it is evident that a protracted Indian war is believed to be at hand. The government is endeavoring to secure the good office of Archbishop Tache, who has great influence with the half-breeds, in quieting those people and prevailing on them to seek a peaceful solution of their grievances. The first detachment of troops are expected to reach Winnipeg Thursday. The premier is in receipt of a number of dispatches bearing on the insurrection, but he refuses to make their contents known until he lays them before the cabinet. The government apprehends trouble between their supporters, and those of the Farmers' union which met at Winnipeg Tuesday. The Ninth battalion of Quebec has been ordered to the front, and two more battalions, one from Halifax and one from St. Johns, will also be dispatched in a few days.

A Battleford dispatch states that the situation there is critical. The Indians are encamped around the agency, and the citizens have taken shelter in the barracks, which they believe they can hold until reinforcements arrive. Lieutenant Governor Dewdney, who is at Regina is holding a parley by wire with the Indians in the hope of arriving at a peaceful settlement. Telegraphic communication with Edmonton is interrupted, and it is feared that there has been an attack made on that place.

There was great excitement in the house when Sir Hector Langevin announced that a dispatch just received from Battleford stated that the Stoney Indians had taken the warpath and were advancing on the settlement. The Seventh battalion will go forward from London Thursday and more troops will follow.

WINNIPEG, April 1.—Dispatches received Tuesday evening from Battleford state that the Indians and half-breeds were noticed from the fort to be plundering the Hudson Bay company's stores, and McKay, who is in charge of the stores there, went out of the fort with others to remonstrate with the insurgents. They noticed that the Indians and half-breeds were trying to cut off their retreat to the fort, and they at once hastened back. On their way back to the barracks three shots were fired at them. All the stores in town are being plundered. Women and children have taken refuge in the fort. Dispatches from Calgarry report that the Indians there are quiet and well disposed.

Another dispatch from Battleford says two Indian instructors have been killed on the reserve near there by the redskins.

THE FRENCH CRISIS.

De Freycinet in Despair Over the New Cabinet.

PARIS, April 1.—M. de Freycinet called upon President Grevy at 9 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Elysee palace, but after a very animated discussion, lasting over two hours, he was unable to form a ministry. M. de Freycinet complained to M. Grevy that the Union Republicains insist that M. Waldeck-Rousseau be maintained as minister of the interior. M. de Freycinet exclaimed: "Why have men in the new cabinet who, only twenty-four hours ago, were condemned by public opinion? We now want new men, untainted by the Tonquin catastrophe!"

M. Grevy replied that no matter what happens, the advice of the Union Republicains must at all hazards be rigidly adhered to.

The result was that at 11:30 M. de Freycinet left the palace without coming to any understanding with President Grevy as to the members of the new cabinet nor as to the chief lines of the policy to be adopted.

A third edition of Soir, published late Tuesday night, says De Freycinet has asked President Grevy to intrust the task of forming a new cabinet to some one else.

The following cabinet is proposed: De Freycinet, minister of foreign affairs; Rouvier, minister of finance; Falleres, minister of the interior; Spuller, minister of public instruction; Flouquet, minister of justice; Gen. Billot, minister of war; Admiral Joureguiberry, minister of marine.

The chamber has voted $10,000,000 as a first installment of the war expenses and will vote the remainder when a new ministry is formed.

Matters in Tonquin are said to be desperate. De L'Isle has sent a dispatch absolutely begging for reinforcements, and it is said to be impossible to secure sufficient transportation to take the men to the seat of war.

CENTRAL AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

United States War Ships Ordered to the Disturbed Regions.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 1.—It is understood that the Central American troubles was the chief subject of discussion at the cabinet meeting Tuesday. It was decided to take whatever steps may prove necessary to carry out the spirit of Secretary Bayard's recent letter upon the subject.

The only official information yet received here concerning the Panama troubles is a dispatch from Consul General Adamson to the secretary of state announcing the seizure of the Colon and arrest of American citizens.

Secretary Whitney believes the action taken Tuesday, in ordering the Galena to protect American interests and ordering the Alliance to Aspinwall, and the Tennessee and Swatara to be held in readiness at New Orleans, is sufficient to protect American citizens for the present.

A private dispatch received here says that the combined forces of Nicaragua and Costa Rica will march in Honduras at once to prevent the forces of the latter country from joining Barrios.

BIG COMBINATION OF CAPITAL.

The Southern Pacific Leases the Central—A Move Against the Union.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The whole line of the Central Pacific railroad and branches north of Goshen has been leased for ninety-nine years to the Southern Pacific company, the same corporation which recently leased the line of the "Sunset route" between San Francisco and New Orleans. The contract takes effect April 1, and provides that the lessor shall maintain the road in good order, assume all lawful obligations in respect thereto, and pay all taxes, charges and interest on its bonded debt as the same may mature. The lessee is to receive in addition as rental, a minimum sum of $1,200,000 per annum, and so much more as surplus earnings may justify up to the sum of $3,000,000. This latter sum is equal to 6 percentum upon its present capitol stock of $50,275,500. The transfer includes certain roads in California heretofore leased and operated by the Central Pacific. This virtual consolidation of the Central and Southern Pacific transcontinental roads, including the use of the steamships from the gulf ports to New York for through traffic, has been decided upon on account of the action of the Union Pacific in seeking a Pacific coast outlet by its Oregon Short Line, independent of and in competition with the Central Pacific. It is provided that if a changed state of affairs should ever occur whereby the present terms of the agreement shall be thought injurious to either party, the terms may be changed by reference of all questions to arbitrators, who shall adjust the differences. Separate accounts are to be kept by the roads, but the administration of both will be concentrated. The roads west of El Paso, to be known as the Pacific division of the Southern Pacific railway system will, be under A. N. Towne as general manager, and the roads east of El Paso, to be known as the Atlantic division, under A. C. Hutchinson. Leland Stanford is president of the new operating company; C. P. Huntington, first vice president; Charles Crocker, second vice president. The capital stock of the company is nearly $100,000,000, and it owns stocks and bonds of the controlled properties to more than that amount.

War on Iowa Saloons.

KEOKUK, Iowa, April 1.—Mrs. J. Ellen Foster addressed two audiences here Monday, and the effect of her efforts in behalf of prohibition were made manifest Tuesday by a general war upon the saloons being inaugurated by the prohibition element of this city. The city had under a special ordinance granted licenses to thirty-seven drinking-places, and they have been having smooth sailing of late. The first skirmish occurred Monday, when the stocks of two saloons were seized. This was followed up Tuesday by notice being served upon several that unless their doors were closed and the sale of liquor discontinued injunction proceedings would be instituted against them. Several gracefully retired from business, while others are preparing to do so. Three saloonists were enjoined, and others will be as soon as the necessary papers are prepared. The city election occurs next Monday, and the liquor question will enter largely into local politics. The general sentiment of the people of this city is strongly in favor of high license.

Gave Him a Good Character.

NYACK, N. Y., April 1.—The Newark (N. J.) conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in March last gave it as their decision that Rev. Dr. Bristor, a former Baltimorean, was guilty of immorality. A judicial conference subsequently reversed that decision. Friday last, in the Newark conference, a committee was appointed to find new ground for charges. Tuesday they reported that there was no just grounds for action. Dr. Bristor's character was then passed by an unanimous conference vote.

There is no evidence against him, and he denies having made a confession.

IN HONOR OF PRINCE BISMARCK.

Berlin Full of Enthusiasm—The Chancellor Talks — A Great Birthday Celebration.

BERLIN, April 1.—The ceremonies attending the celebration of the chancellor's 70th birthday began Tuesday. Numerous deputations from all parts of the empire had arrived, bringing the congratulations and best wishes of the people of the various places which they represent to the chancellor on the attainment of the 70th year of his age. In the afternoon a large number of these delegates formally waited on Prince Bismarck and presented him with addresses. The prince replied in a speech of considerable length, expressing his heartfelt pleasure at the honor shown him. He spoke in praise of the patriotic spirit with which the Germans as a people have responded to all calls made on them in the interest of the empire, and reviewed at some length the events which have emblazoned the history of Germany since her unification. "She stands," said the prince, "one of the foremost among nations, respected by all, and feared by not a few. This," he continued, "is entirely due to the people's love of the fatherland, and their readiness to sacrifice every interest to the furtherance of the nation's welfare." In conclusion, Prince Bismarck spoke as follows:

The German army has made, and will uphold, the might of the empire long after I have passed away. For the soldiers of Germany no words of mine can convey enough praise. Their deeds of valor in contending with her foes are too fresh and too well engraven on the minds of the people to need any mention by me. To her army much of her greatness is due, and in the troops she placed her greatest confidence and security.

The chancellor was deeply moved at times, and tears glistened in his eyes as also in those of many of his hearers. He was loudly and enthusiastically applauded several times during the delivery of his speech.

In the evening a torchlight procession, in which fully 5,000 persons took part, was reviewed from a balcony of the palace by the chancellor, who stood calmly smoking, while his sons stood on either side holding lamps in such positions as to enable the processionists to plainly see their father's features. As the procession passed by the participants rent the air with wild and enthusiastic cheers, which were heartily joined in by the crowds, who thronged Unter den Linden, and the streets in the vicinity of the palace. The capital was brilliantly illuminated. The windows of all the private houses, as well as public buildings, were lighted up, while long strings of Chinese lanterns hung across the streets in many places. The thoroughfares were thronged with people, and altogether the city presented a gala appearance in honor of the author of German unity.

There is an imperial ordinance against the playing of music in public by bands during Lent. The emperor, "as an extraordinary measure in honor of an extraordinary man," has suspended this prohibition so that it will not interfere with the joyous celebration of Prince Bismarck's birthday.

LONDON, April 1.—The Daily News in reviewing Bismarck's career, says he has performed work of the most heroic sort, and will indeed rank in history among the world's heroes.

WOULD TEACH HIM TO PRAY.

Salvationists at Chicago Invaded by a Demented Woman.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Tuesday evening while Capt. Evans, of the Salvation army, was at the head of his soldiers, gallantly holding the fort on Chicago avenue, the rainparts were scaled by an excited female whose invasion was only checked when she had reached the very stronghold of the citadel—in other words, had ascended the platform, where the plaintive notes of Capt. Cay's concertina were piping in a vain endeavor to keep the voices of the heterogeneous congregation in some kind of line for the rendition of a gospel hymn.

The enemy made no hostile demonstration until the hymn was ended and Capt. Evans had commenced a short prayer, when she pushed him roughly aside, saying: "Kape yer mout shut, ye owld fool; I'll show ye how to pray." With that she produced a Roman Catholic prayer-book, and would have read a portion of the service, but Capt. Cay and Lieut. Boyan led her forcibly from the platform, notwithstanding she kicked, both literally and metaphorically, bringing her prayer-book down several times on the heads of both of them, and finally succeeded in ejecting her from the building. At the door she was taken in charge by Officer McMahon, who conducted her across the street to the Chicago avenue station. There she was recognized as Bridget McIntyre, supposed to be partially demented, and certainly under the influence of something stronger than water. Bridget is a hard-working, honest woman employed usually in a laundry, who on this occasion allowed her religious zeal to get away with her discretion.

ROSS WANTS TO ROW BEACH.

Inducements for the Champion to Come to America.

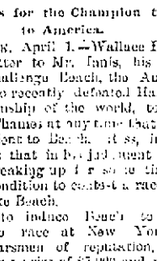

NEW YORK, April 1.—Wallace Ross has mailed a letter to Mr. Ivins, his London backer, to challenge Beach, the Australian oarsman, who recently defeated Hanlan for the championship of the world, to row a race on the Thames at any time that may be most convenient to Beach. It is, in an interview says that in his judgment Hanlan has been breaking up for some time and was not in condition to contend a race with a fresh man like Beach.

In order to induce Beach to row a championship race at New York with American oarsmen of reputation, R. K. Fox will offer a prize of $5,000 and make an allowance of $500 to Beach to defray the expenses of his journey from Australia to New York. If Beach cannot be induced to come to New York $500 will be paid to the winner of the $5,000 prize for the purpose of defraying his expenses to Australia to meet Beach there.

HOLDING HIS GROUND.

THE STRICKEN SOLDIER RALLIES AGAINST THE ENEMY,

And Death, Defeated for the Time, Beats a Retreat—Reassuring Bulletins from the Doctors—A Very Close Call Saturday Night.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Gen. Grant's general condition, in the opinion of his physicians, was much more favorable Tuesday. After a fair night's rest he took liquid food with a relish, and spent most of the afternoon in dozing in his evening chair. His throat troubled him very little, and his pulse was stronger than Monday. At 3 p. m. Dr. Shrady issued the following bulletin: "Gen. Grant has improved in all respects since Monday. His sleep is quiet, and scarcely disturbed by the irritation of the throat. The local applications have reduced the amount of secretions so that they do not cause the suffocative feeling, which was so disagreeable on Sunday. He takes food well and without inconvenience."

Drs. Barker and Douglas visited the general and met Dr. Shrady, who had remained over night and up to that time. The doctors decided upon no change of treatment, and Dr. Douglas will remain with the patient for a day or so.

Rev. Dr. Newman called about 3:30, and was at once shown to the general's room. He remained about an hour, and, on leaving, expressed his surprise at the great change since Monday for the better in the general's condition. At 5:30 Gen. Daniel Sickles and Judge Brady called, and had a short interview with the invalid.

At midnight Tuesday the following bulletin was issued: "Gen. Grant has been sleeping nearly all the time since 9 o'clock. He has just taken nourishment well, and appears to be easy. His pulse is the same and his breathing free from distress."

At 2, a. m., Wednesday the house was closed and dark, and all appearances were that there is no ground for the apprehension of a fatal termination of the disease immediately.

The fact has come out that the danger which Gen. Grant was in on Saturday night was even more serious than has been supposed. It was only by the utmost exertions of the two doctors that he was saved. There is not the remotest chance that he could withstand another such attack, and he is liable to have another at any moment. This is the reason the doctors never leave his side.

LEGISLATION IN ILLINOIS.

Statesmen Vary the Proceedings With a Shindy a la Sullivan.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., April 1.—While the house was attempting to adjourn, Tuesday, Baker and Crafts engaged in a hand-to-hand fight immediately in front of the speaker's stand. Baker had all Tuesday morning busied himself in endeavoring to get the stock yards bill replaced in the order of bills on second reading, while Crafts desired the measure referred to some committee or other. The two men met, and Baker said to Crafts:

"Your scheme won't work."

Mr. Crafts—I have no scheme.

Mr. Baker—Yes, you have. Your finger is in the pie.

Crafts—No, it is not.

Baker—Yes, it is.

Crafts—You are a —— liar.

Baker—You are another.

Crafts retorted with a blow aimed at Baker's face, which, however, fell wide of the mark. Baker struck Crafts in the face with his fist and at the same time kicked him in the stomach. Crafts, apparently weakened by the kick, grasped a chair and endeavored to smash it over Baker's head, but the house policeman interfered and separated the would be combatants, who were entirely willing to fight the battle to a finish then and there. The house was in great commotion by this time, the members yelling and shouting. Speaker Haines promptly declared the house adjourned.

Proceedings in the Senate.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 1.—The senate, upon assembling Tuesday, immediately went into executive session, remaining there for a short time and then reopening in open session, when Allison called up his resolution providing for a committee of seven senators to sit during the recess, to take measures to reduce contingent expenses of the senate. The resolution was amended so as to provide that the committee shall inquire into the practicability of dispensing with a dozen or more of the senate committees, and then adopted.

Van Wyck's resolution rescinding all resolutions providing that the Mississippi river committee may sit during recess was taken up, discussed briefly and laid over, when the senate adjourned after another executive session.

MRS. GARFIELD WILL MARRY AGAIN,

A Pennsylvania Clergyman the Happy Expectant Groom.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 1.—The congregation of the Westfield Presbyterian church at Newcastle, near Mount Jackson, Lawrence county, were recently surprised and delighted to learn that their beloved pastor, the Rev. William M. Taylor, was engaged to be married to the widow of the late lamented President Garfield. The information was conveyed to them in a delicate way, as properly it should be, and they regard the forthcoming match with deep interest. There are many romantic features in the affair, inasmuch as the first wife of the Rev. Taylor was a companion and friend of Mrs. Garfield during the period of their girlhood. The Rev. Mr. Taylor is about 50 years old, and is of medium hight. His hair and whiskers, once black, are now slightly tinged with gray. His complexion is a dark olive and his eyes are black and sparkling. He would not be considered a handsome man according to the standards of critical comparison, but he is pleasant and agreeable. He is one of fourteen sons of ex-Judge Taylor of Lawrence county. He is a man of fine literary attainments. He graduated at Jefferson college, then at Canonsburg, in the year 1858. He married Miss Packer of Hiram, Ohio, whom he had met while on a visit at the latter place. Miss Packer was a classmate of Mrs. Garfield, and they both attended the College of Hiram, graduating while President Garfield was at the head of that institution. They maintained the friendship after both had married, and in this way the Rev. Mr. Taylor and Mrs. Garfield became acquainted. A year ago last July Mrs. Taylor visited her parents at Hiram, and while there died suddenly of heart disease. Mrs. Garfield sent the bereaved husband her sympathies on the sad occasion, and they frequently met when the Rev. Taylor was on his way to and from Hiram. Friendship thus established ripened, until it is now an open secret in the Westfield flock that their shepherd is soon to marry the widow of the distinguished president. The reverend gentleman makes frequent visits to the home of Mrs. Garfield, and the intimations which the congregation have received indicate that the event is to come off some time next summer. Their only anxiety at present is as to whether they are going to lose their present spiritual head or have a new mistress at the parsonage.

Miners Returning to Work.

PITTSBURG, April 1.—The latest advices from the mines point to a speedy ending of the strike in the Pittsburg district, although trouble is looming up in Mercer county, where the few hundred miners employed propose to fight a reduction in the price from 60 to 50 cents a ton. A strike is uncommon in that region, and will be watched with interest. Eight mines are running on the Panhandle railroad at the 2½-cent rate. The operators at one of those mines offered the diggers a week ago 3 cents a bushel for coal sold in the local trade and 2½ for that shipped to foreign markets. They refused to accept it. The operators withdrew the proposition and Tuesday their miners returned to work for 2½ cents for both local and foreign trade. There is also a break on the Baltimore & Ohio road. The miners at the Snowden mine, operated by the Pittsburg and Chicago Gas and Coal company, returned to work Tuesday morning at the 2½-cent rate. It is expected that the company's men at Gastonville will go to work soon.

Hiram H. Kimpton, once a broker in Wall street, with a fortune of $2,000,000, became an outcast from drink, and has been sent to a charitable institution in New York.

The Engineer Stuck to His Post.

GREENFIELD, Mass., April 1.—On Monday night a northern-bound passenger train on the Connecticut River road collided at a crossing here with an east-bound Fitchburg freight. Both locomotives were badly damaged and two freight cars wrecked. Engineer Edward Bemis, of the Fitchburg, stuck to his post, though the pilot-house was knocked off over his head. He succeeded in shutting off steam, thus avoiding a collision with another west-bound train, a short distance below the crossing. He was scalded on the arm. James Clancy, engineer of the Connecticut River road, was scalded slightly. George Reynolds, brakeman, had his jaw cut, and was bruised, but not fatally. No passengers were hurt.

IT CAME SUDDENLY! IT WENT PROMPTLY!

Richmond, Indiana, is a busy place, with its various manufacturing industries; and one of the busiest men in it is Mr. A. E. Crocker, who is known throughout all Indiana as a prosperous real estate and insurance man. He is a gentleman in middle life of great vitality, and of very active temperament. Over a year ago, owing to severe overwork and great exposure, he was suddenly prostrated with sciatic rheumatism. To one of our correspondents, who visited him at his office a few weeks ago, Mr. Crocker told the story of his illness and recovery.

Said he: "I had been working very hard; much harder and more continuously than any man ought to work. I had been much exposed to the severity of the winter weather. My health had been so good that I was probably not as careful as I should have been, relying on my strong constitution to carry me through anything and everything. One cold day, last winter, I was unexpectedly taken with an acute pain, which I felt in my knee while stooping. The pain extended rapidly through thigh, stomach, head and brain. The doctor, who attended me, said it was a remarkable case of sciatic rheumatism. He gave me a variety of medicines, the result of which was but slight and temporary relief. I suffered intensely, and was for a while laid aside from business, and confined to my bed. My case was evidently one requiring more powerful and efficient remedy than the doctor had brought to bear on it.

"After some weeks of suffering, I saw an advertisement of Athlophoros. On a venture, and supposing that anyhow it could not make me any worse than I was, I bought a bottle. The effect of the first few doses of this medicine was wonderful. Relief came almost immediately. My sciatica went away almost as quickly as it came. To have such relief as this medicine gave me was as gratifying as it was unexpected. I took nearly a bottle of Athlophoros, which cured me so completely that I have not, since that time, had occasion to take any medicine at all. I have recommended this to a great many friends, and I have heard nothing but good words spoken of it. I think no medicine is like it for removing rheumatism and scattering sciatica."

Although druggists sell hundreds of different kinds of medicines, it sometimes happens that one particular remedy accomplishes so much good that it stands pre-eminently above all the others, and by reason of its real merit attracts conspicuous attention to itself. This is the case with Athlophoros, the new remedy for rheumatism. In the two or three years during which this remedy has been before the public it has made a shining mark in working cures, the reports of which have in great numbers found their way to the druggists who sold the medicine.

Calling on A. G. Luken & Co., of Richmond, Indiana, our correspondent found that this was eminently the case at their establishment, which is a leading drug house in that busy city.

Mr. Luken said: "Athlophoros is doing a good work. We hear of a great many cases of cure, even though in most instances we do not hear of the names, which is principally because we have taken no special measures to secure them. But there are a great many of our customers who have been so well pleased with it that they have come for more. Old Mrs. Morse, a widow lady of eighty-six years, has taken six or eight bottles of it. Of course, you know it cannot be expected entirely to drive out an old and deeply-seated case of rheumatism like hers, but it has greatly relieved her pain. Then there is Mr. Crocker, the insurance and real estate agent, whom everybody in Richmond knows. He was a very sick man, but it made him well. And there are a number of others right here in town. Out of town there are many. Mr. L. W. Richy, the druggist, at New Paris, Ohio, not far from here, can tell you of several. So can Mr. [I.] F. Robertson, at Whitewater, Indiana. The popularity of Athlophoros seems to be based on actual merit, and there is no denying the fact that it has made its mark among the people as an efficient remedy for rheumatism, neuralgia, and sciatica."

Briefiets.

—April opens up very pleasantly.

—All Fool's day was very quiet in this city.

—Republican caucuses to-morrow evening—select your candidates.

—Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F. occupy Odd Fellows hall this evening.

—Mr. Mark Langley, and two sons, have gone to Dakota to spend the summer.

—"Her Atonement" is the next attraction at the opera house, Monday, April 6th.

—The sprinklig carts were out today, wetting down the dusty streets, on both sides of the river.

—The trustees of Oak Hill cemetery this morning invested $1,500 of their surplus funds in city bridge bonds.

—The funeral of the late Miss Emily Fifield will be held at her late home, Washington street, first ward, at three o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

—Evansville Enterprise—Mrs. Sidney Smith took the train for Janesville last Saturday morning, where she will remain with her mother a few days, who is quite feeble.

—Webb & Hall, the pioneer jewelers, are in the market, with bargains in gold and silver watches. Their stock is large, and prices low. Give them a call and see for yourself.

—A car load of the heavy timber for the Milwaukee street bridge arrived this morning, and the work of repairing the bridge will be re-commenced to-morrow, and pushed right along.

—Mr. J. C. Fredendall having sold his residence on Academy street to Mr. W. VanValen, has moved into rooms in his brick block, on North Main street, opposite the Court Street M. E. Church.

—The remains of Mrs. John Coats, who died of her home on North Franklin street, yesterday morning, were taken to the cars at 12:30 this afternoon, and expressed to Augusta, Illinois, the home of her daughter.

—A well known young man was brought into the municipal court this morning by Marshal Hogan, charged with lewd and lascivious practices on the public streets last night. The young man plead guilty, and was fined $15 and costs, which was paid.

—The trustees of Oak Hill cemetery held their regular monthly meeting this morning, and resolved to go ahead at an early day, making improvements in the cemetery grounds. Lot owners contemplating making improvements in their lots are requested to confer with the trustees.

—Miss Hattie Harvey delighted another large audience at the Riverside roller rink last evening. Her "shadow dance" was very fine, and with the exception of Maggie Mitchell in her shadow dance in Fanchon, was the best act of the kind ever seen in this city. Miss Harvey's other movements on the skates were also very fine, and she was frequently heartily applauded.

—A woman named Slocum, residing in one of the business blocks on North Main street, was out on the streets at a late hour last night in an intoxicated condition, and was taken to jail by Marshal Hogan. The woman is the mother of three or four little children, two of whom, being quite small, were out at eleven o'clock trying to find their wayward mother. This morning she was fined $15 and costs by the municipal court.

—Evening News, Detroit, Mich.: Arthur Ball, of Worcester, Mass., is doing some remarkably fine skating at McQuade's rink. He is said to be the American champion in fancy and trick skating. One of his extraordinary feats is a two minute spin on the forewheels of his skates. He gave an exhibition last night that evoked the most enthusiastic applause, and set upon his skating the seal of high superiority. At Riverside Rink Saturday evening April 4th.

—The opera house was packed last evening, with an audience called out to witness a representation of Uncle Tom's Cabin by the Mason & Morgan combination. The play was "murdered" from beginning to end,—in fact it was the poorest representation of that grand piece ever attempted in Janesville, yet the next announcement of its production, even with two Uncle Toms, two Evas, and two Topsys, will again fill the house to overflowing. Uncle Tom has the sympathy of the public, and it matters but little to them what company produces the play,—they all go just the same.

—Binghampton Daily Republican: Mr. Ball who is a remarkably well built young man, of not more than two or three and twenty, then proceeded to do some of the most difficult feats known to the science, such as sailing across the room with a spiral motion on one foot whirling around with great rapidity on his toes for several seconds at a time, picking up handkerchiefs from the floor with his teeth, and others to describe which we have not space. It was probably the most remarkable exhibition of the kind ever witnessed here, and while it was in progress and at its close the audience was enthusiastic in its applause. Mr. Ball skates at the Riverside rink, Janesville, Saturday evening, April 4th.

—We note with pleasure every evidence of business prosperity, and among those worthy of special mention we would call attention to the following list of property recently sold by C. E. Bowles: House and lot owned by John Belton, to Frank Wood, for $800; the Washington place, on Terrace street, to C. T. Shepard, sold for $600; the homestead of H. Notbohm, on Center avenue, to Mrs. Mary Littlejohn, for $2,500; ten acres and buildings, the property of Mrs. Hannah Wallis sold to G. B. Stevens for $2,750; block of three brick stores on West Milwaukee street, owned by heirs of James Church, sold to Harry Merrill for $7,000; the Church homestead on Main street, sold to Jacob Fredendall for $1,000; lot in Smith's addition, sold to John Collins for $120; house and 1½ acres on Ruger avenue, to Mrs. Nancy Hutson for $1,540; lot on Pearl street, to Mrs. Jennie Belton for $200; N. B. Robinson house and 3 lots sold to Mrs. Mary L. Reed for $550.

HIGH LICENSE.

The Assembly Bill Concurred in by Senate.

A special dispatch from Madison, this afternoon, states that the assembly license bill has passed the senate, and now only awaits the governor's signature to become the law.

Funeral of Mrs. Rockwood.

The solemn service connected with the burial of the late Mrs. Catharine R. Rockwood, took place this afternoon at two o'clock at the home of the bereaved family on Pleasant street. The Rev. Dr. Hodge spoke briefly of the many virtues of the deceased, her strong christian character, and how devotedly she laid the sacrifices of life on the altar of the home. The doctor's remarks were particularly appropriate and touching, and made a lasting impression upon the many who heard him. Three selections—"Nearer my God to Thee," "Waiting by the River," and a chant, "Come unto me," were sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. J. W. St. John, Mrs. C. B. Conrad, Mr. Clarence L. Clark and Mr. Smith. One of the beautiful features of the service was the part borne by three sons—Shephard S., Baldwin and Eugene, who, with a grandson, Mr. Mitchell, of Brodhead, acted as pall-bearers, as tenderly carrying the remains to the grave as she had cared for them in the strong years of her life. The burial took place at Oak Hill cemetery.

Attend the Republican Caucuses.

The ward caucuses will be held to-morrow evening as announced in another column of the Gazette, and while the announcement is in the stereotyped form the occasion is of more than ordinary importance. At these caucuses men are to be placed in nomination, who, if elected are to represent the interests of the various wards and the city for the coming year.

The foundations of our municipal government are laid in these primary meetings, and the structure that shall result depends entirely upon the kind of a foundation upon which it rests. It is possible to so neglect the initial work of any enterprise as to cause defeat, and disaster, and this is particularly true of city government. The republican party of the city of Janesville is in the majority. There is no good reason why a ticket may not be placed in the field this spring composed of representative men who can be elected, and who when elected, will so manage the affairs of our municipal government, as to win credit to themselves and satisfaction to their constituency.

If this class of men are nominated and elected by the republican party, it means hearty and united support at the caucus, as well as at the polls. Many good men habitually absent themselves from primary meetings, under the delusion that caucuses are always "packed" and then after the nominations are announced they are the first to complain and find fault with the candidates. Every caucus to-morrow night should be packed full of good straight republicans, thoroughly impressed with the idea that the destiny of our city government for the next twelve months is in their keeping, and realizing that the trust is important.

The men of any political party who by their indifference, allow the lower and baser element to so manipulate the sources of government as to produce a corrupt administration, are responsible to a degree only produced by such neglect. Let every republican voter in the city be found in his place to-morrow night.

Man wird alle Arzneien welche in dieser Zeitung angezeigt sind, bei Prentice & Evenson, gegenüber der Post-Office, Janesville, finden. The Game of Marbles.

It's "marble time" with the boys and there is lots of fun in the play. "You fellows out here in the country don't know how to play marbles," writes Ingersoll, of the Beloit Free Press, after visiting some urchins down at the mouth o Turtle Creek. "Your game is a chump game. No skill is required, and you play more with your mouths than with your fingers. Why, if you should try any of your style on us in the city we would laugh you off the ground. Oh, I ain't putting on style over you fellows either. It's a fact that there are splendid games, with marbles which you fellows seem to ignore. You are all on the plump—and such plumping. Oh! why you snudge more than you plump! Now, we fellows would not let you move your hand one bit; you would have to shoot the marble with your fingers.

"But the fine game is the big ring. Knuckle down tight—that is the fun, and every scrub can't break the bank and spin in the ring. The simplest rule for the big ring I know of is like this: Put the stakes in the middle of the ring; then pink for first shot. When you shoot hold your hand still on the ring; if you snudge you lose your stakes. When you knock a marble out of the ring its yours. If you knock out you can shoot again. If your alley stays in the ring and you do not knock out stakes and the other shooters knock you out, they get the stakes nearest the ring. You are never 'dead,' and can shoot again. That is about all there is of it. The one who knocks out the last stakes gets the first shot in the next game—no more pinking.

"You will find 'mibs' a new sport, and like it much better this way than the other. Now try it, and have some style about you. But good bye, here comes Bob, and I am going to tell him how to play peg top as we do it in Beloit.

Shopiere.

—There will be an Easter concert at the Congregational church next Sunday evening.

—Thomas Cooling, of Rockford, Illinois, has been spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. George Sears.

—Mr. J. H. Vought is improving some.

—The republican caucus will be held in the town hall on Saturday next at 2 o'clock p. m.

—Mrs. Mandeville, of Rockford, is visiting among friends with whom she used to associate years ago, when a resident of this village.

—Our school commenced the spring term Monday, with Miss Gray and Miss Hubbard at their posts of duty. It is safe to predict a good school if we can judge by the past.

—Mr. M. C. Olin and family, of Rockford, are spending a few days with Mrs. W. C. Weirck, on their way to Frankfort, Dakota, which place they expect to make their future home.

—Rev. J. L. Foude, of Arlington Heights, Illinois, preached in the Congregational church last Sunday.

—This letter will be taken to the depot by our new mail carrier, on his first trip. He is a Simon pure democrat of the first water. He has grown gray waiting for those good old times to return, when the democrats will be fed on "bread and butter" from the masters table; but this is not the same kind of a master that you used to have 30 years ago, Johnson.

—J. Dunn being the lowest bidder receives the contract for carrying the mail. It has been a long while since Johnson used to carry the mail from Beloit to Shopiere under the old democratic administration about 30 years ago.

—Many of our people were in attendance at the Sunday school convention at Clinton last week and enjoyed the exercises very much.

—Mr. A. Smith has returned from a business trip to Iowa. His daughter, Miss Ellie also returned with him.

—It is very seldom that a community is more shocked at the death of one outside of its own number than our village was last Monday on receiving the news of the death of Miss Lillian Hartshorn of Clinton. Miss Hartshorn had many warm friends among the young people of our community and those who have been associated with her in school days past and gone feel keenly the loss of a near and dear friend and schoolmate. Miss Hartshorn was a young lady of real worth and one in whose company it was a pleasure to be. Mr. and Mrs. Hartshorn and family have the sympathy of the many friends in this community. A large number from this community were in attendance at the funeral Tuesday afternoon.

We shall miss our sister, friend and schoolmate,
But will cherish the memory of days that are gone.
Her Sabbath rest began in Heaven,
Where she waits to welcome us one by one.

—The anniversary held at the M. E. church last Wednesday, was attended by a large number of people from the surrounding country and other places. Not being able to be present through the day we are indebted to Mr. B. H. Smith for the following notes of the day session:

Anthem by the choir, reading of scripture by Rev. E. D. Farnham, prayer by Rev. A. J. Mead, addresses of welcome by president Wm. Howard and the pastor, Rev. A. J. Aplin. President Howard's address was brief and very appropriate for the occasion. Sermon by D. O. Jones from the text found in the 5th chapter of James and 20th verse. Following the sermon were three minute speeches by different persons. The church was organized March 25, 1855, and the first sermon was preached by Rev. Chamberlain, of Beloit. Following this was the dinner and social to which every one was invited, the tables were loaded with good things and were enjoyed by the crowds of people. The afternoon exercises were opened by singing, and prayer was offered by Rev. B. F. Sanford, of Clinton. The history of the church was then read, after which was the reception of members five in number. After singing by the choir, the obituaries which were to have been read by J. H. Vought (who was on his sick bed) were read by the pastor. The Love Feast was led by Rev. E. D. Farnham, of Sun Prairie, and closed with very appropriate remarks of the days gone by when he received his first religious impressions. The Lord's Supper was administered by Rev. S. Lugg, presiding elder, which closed the exercises for the day. The intervening time before the evening session, was spent in a social way and at tea. The evening session was opened by singing by the choir. The report of the W. F. M. society was then read by Mrs. Kemerer. The history of the S. S. was read by W. H. Collin. The number of scholars in the beginning was 35, at present the number is 95. The exercises by the children were very interesting and called out loud applause from the audience. We shall never forget the song by little Miss Edna Hield, of Janesville, "Kiss me mother, for I'm going to sleep." The report of the Ladies' Aid society was read by Mrs. J. Chamberlain. The reading of letters from former pastors were very interesting, after which the meeting closed with benediction by Elder Lugg.

Johnstown.

—News comes to us of the death of Linus Parker at New Orleans on March 5th, aged 50 years. Mr. Parker was a bishop of the Methodist church at the time of his death. He went from Oneida county, New York, when he was sixteen years old and engaged as a clerk in a store, soon after he united with the Methodist church and commenced studying for the ministry. He filled the pulpits of several churches in New Orleans, was several times presiding elder of the New Orleans district; editor of the Christian Advocate twelve years, and finally elected bishop, Bishop Parker was a brother of John J. Parker, of this village. The Parker family came here about 30 years ago, and the father and mother are buried here. Two of the children are yet in the state of New York, one in New Jersey, three in Chicago, and five in the state of Illinois, including those in Chicago, while John J. Parker remains on the farm here they purchased in 1854.

—Mr. Aikin is yet on the sick list from a chronic difficulty of which he has been troubled for several years. At this time he is in a very critical condition.

—Progressive eucre has broke out at the Center in its most active form, and is as prevalent among the aged as the young people, putting in all the time there is before seeding commences.

—The closing social of the Congregational society, will be held on Tuesday evening of this week, at the house of Louis Fletcher.

—A shingle is attached to the post in front of the house of Henry Crumb, which reads—A farm for sale.

—H. A. Stone has let his farm to his son-in-law, and will ride around this summer at his pleasure and perhaps use his tools in repairing where it is needed.

—A. B. Carter has Harry Fellows digging a well for the benefit of his stock on that part of his farm which lies in Richmond, Walworth county.

—The traveling tin shop has been to see us on his monthly rounds.
